Mr. Sparrow, always Mr. Sparrow, no many how many times he said to call him Dave, was such a gentleman. He welcomed me into his home any time I was in the area, and it was always a pleasure to see him. I can picture his smile and hear his laugh at a good story. His interest in such a vast array of topics and his attention to the state of the world, always meant there was something of value to learn from a conversation with him. Over the years I came to regard him as the quiet bedrock of your family, and my heart aches to know how sorely his presence will be missed. I have known him for such a short period of his life, only a touch beyond 20 years, but feel honoured to have had that opportunity. Love and hugs to you all.

He had us after just the first few words into his sales pitch for the beach community advertising - and he instantly became a friend. We greatly miss his lunch visits "where's my coffee?!".... A true gentleman with a great sense of humour - a gem of a person. Our sincerest condolences.....
