It breaks my heart that we have lost Pam. I know she was the rock of your family, and how much she loved Jim, Skylar, Creighton, Ainslee, Cole, William and Nola. She shared many wonderful stories and memories with me, about all of you. She was also my long-time friend and collaborator. Pam and I have been friends for more than 20 years. She's been my sidekick through all sorts of adventures and escapades. She worked as an artist in my hand painted glassware business, Harriet Spot Designs. When we morphed into making purses and accessories, she became my seamstress. She volunteered on the Board of Directors for my community project, Magic of Children in the Arts. When I took on running Artfest, Pam went out and learned bookkeeping and she has been managing Artfest's accounts right from the start. Pam was a talented artist. She painted delightful detailed illustrations on Christmas ornaments, greeting cards and wine glasses. Recently, she took up rug hooking and created beautiful colour scenes as personalized gifts for her family. Many Artfest exhibitors knew Pam as Artfest's accounts manager. I jokingly called her my ‘enforcer’, making phone calls to collect late payments from my clients. She had a remarkable capacity to be non-judgemental and see humour in everything. I will miss her warm laughter and her wonderful ability to listen and empathize. Fly free my friend.
