I’m sorry for your loss of your grandmother. I work at Tolendale and I got to know Brigitte and she was a lovely lady and talked fondly about David (your father) as well as her granddaughters Michelle and Julie. She will be missed and thank you for taking such good care of her.

Extending my heart felt sympathy over the passing of dear Brigitte. Michelle and Julie, your grandmother was a special lady, she lovingly spoke of both of you. I will always remember her lovely smile while she was out and about here at Tollendale. We were very sad when it became necessary for Brigitte to move due to changing health.

I’m so very sorry to hear of your Mom’s passing. She was an incredibly important part of my childhood. We didn’t have much, but I was a child obsessed with reading, so I would scrabble my pennies together to save $2.15 for the latest hardcover Nancy Drew book from your parents store. When I was quite small, your Dad gave me VIP treatment by taking me upstairs to the store room/office where I finally figured out how he knew who the shoplifters were. I’ll never forget the first time he bellowed downstairs to one wayward kid. It both scared and delighted me ! I thought his tactic was great. The disembodied voice from above could only be God as your conscience, right ?? Lol. Your Mom was absolutely gorgeous and was the first person I remember encountering with an accent. I remember naively thinking she must be related to Eva Gabor from Green Acres !! Funny how you think as a wee one. Your parents store was a wondrous place for me, a treasure trove of books, black India rubber balls that I haven't seen since and every other thing you can imagine. I won't forget her smile or her kindness. Sending condolences.

I am sorry to hear about the passing of Mrs. Hofmann. It takes me back to a time when I was a little boy and used to go into the store with my grandmother. Mrs. Hofmann was always so lovely. That was a long time ago now, but they are very nice memories. Rest in peace and condolences to all of your family and friends.
